

Concurrent Algorithms 2009: Exercise 5

October 26, 2009

1 Problem 1

Prove that it is impossible to implement a consensus object using only queues and atomic registers in a system of 3 processes.

2 Problem 2

Devise an algorithm that implements a consensus object using (any number of) queues that are initially empty and atomic registers in a system of 2 processes.